personal protection products.

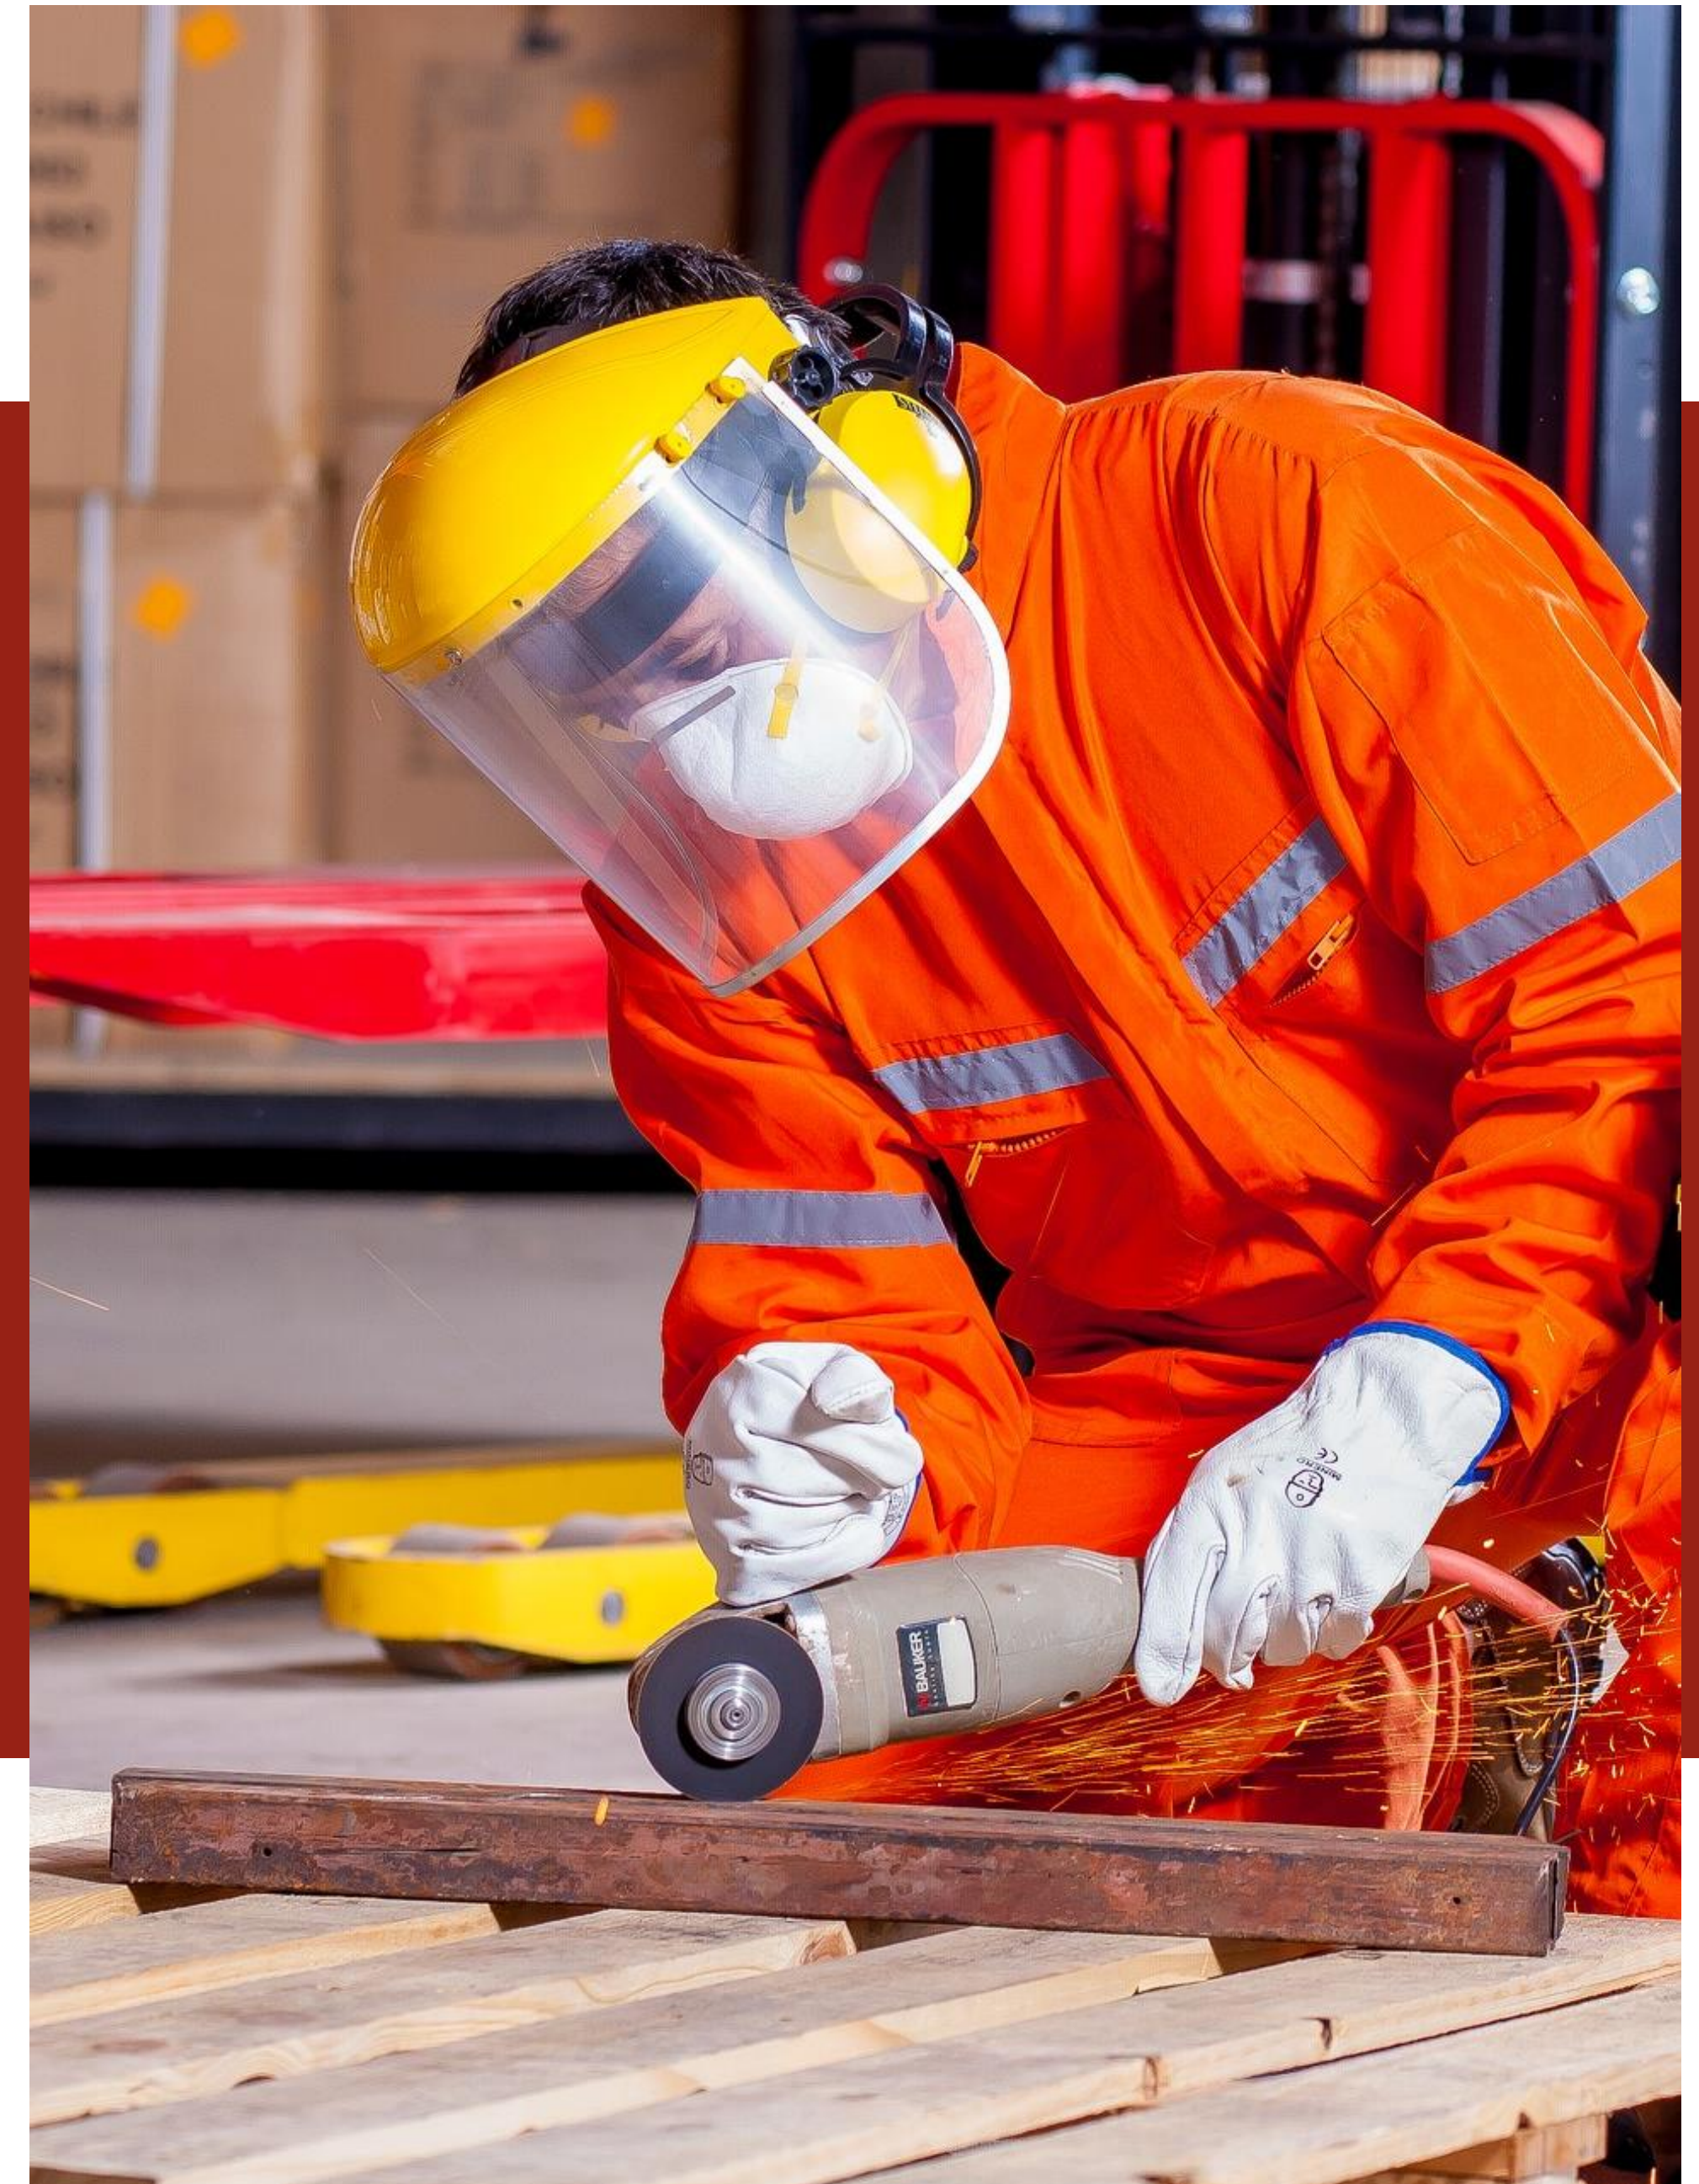

ABOUT

cóndor

We are a B2B company with a track record and experience in the corporate security market. We import and commercialize industrial workwear. We started our operations in 2012, providing quality and maximum security through our products, which cover the needs of personal protection in each company.

In our operational processes, we recycle leather materials to generate another product, in order to break the paradigm of the life cycle of leather products in Chilean mining.

WE HAVE A

Wide Level of Diversification

Our clients are mainly mining groups that allocate large resources for personal protection equipment (PPE) for direct or subcontracted workers who carry out activities on their sites. Thus, the market for these products is quite robust and mature. However, our far-reaching positioning in the industrial security market allows us to reach multiple clients and lines of business.

INDUSTRIAL WORKWEAR

Our Products

We are committed to the import and commercialization of different products associated with personal protection.

We started our operations with three-fold masks, and then, in 2020, we became direct importers of leather products in the industrial area, our main product being unlined, chrome-free leather gloves with our quality certificate CALTEX N°21in1843, mainly used for light and low risk work.

We Seek Sustainability

The leather product is used by the worker, to be later discarded, in the best of cases, in a container for disposal, and is collected by the company responsible for the final discarding of the waste, disposing of it in a landfill.

Our mission in this line is to find an environmental response that allows the reuse of previously cleaned leather materials to generate another product (under study) and thus break the paradigm of the life cycle of leather products in Chilean mining.

Our Strategy

Today there are different tools for technology transfer. We are open to jointly analyzing what may be the best alternative for this, based on the urgent need to find a solution in the short-medium term that allows us to adapt it to our business model, granting sustainability to our marketing operations and improving the environmental quality of our mining ecosystem.

Leather Sustainability

Even with various companies dedicated to the import and sale of leather products in mining in Chile, there is no sustainability edge associated with this market to date.

Our Mission

We seek to reuse leather materials to create other products and increase the life cycle of leather products in Chilean mining.

Strategic Alliance

Our objective is to associate with the University, generating the academy-private world bond that generates the instance of placement of technology developed jointly in the private market.
